New Wellness Series from RGA

Eighty-five percent of insurers report wellness as a priority, and 70% have developed an insurance-linked wellness product. But with more than 350,000 health and wellness apps already on the market, how do you know what makes a digital wellness program successful?

To answer this question, actuvew partner RGA has launched a series of short videos to help insurers understand which approaches not only work best, but how to plan, design, and evaluate their own programs based on behavioural science.

Digital Wellness Toolkit

Matt Battersby, Rosmery Cruz, Peter Howard

One of the videos in the Series, RGA's Digital Wellness Toolkit, features Matt Battersby, Vice President and Chief Behavioural Scientist; Peter Howard, Lead Behavioural Scientist, GDA; and Rosemary Cruz, Senior Data Scientist, GDA, and is featured this month, and available on actuvew. ### Pension Series by Deloitte

Our Premium Content Partner Deloitte has launched a new video series on the future of pensions in Europe. Demographic change, interest rate developments, and inflation are having a significant impact on both the level of pension provision and the need to build up a pension.

This prompted Deloitte to compile a compact overview of selected aspects of the three pillars of pension provision in Germany, Austria, Poland, and the Czech Republic. The explanations of the statutory, occupational, and private pension provisions for Germany and Poland are available on actuvew now:
