

actview Newsletter | March 2024

Dear User,

So many things have happened in the last few weeks that we want to tell you about. First, CONVENTION EUROPE took place with more than 1,100 registered participants and a content program that brought insights into actual trends topics across the continent. Another European idea is the newly launched Young Actuaries Initiative that we want to support among trading partners and partners worldwide. However, the IAA Life Section has started a new initiative series - "Have a look".

Read all about these exciting activities and find many more publications, videos, and events happening on actview and around the world. Enjoy!

IAALS publishes first interview of new Climate Risk Series
The IAA Life Section has started an interview series on climate risk. Designed specifically for the actuaries who may not be fully aware of how this will impact their work, in this series, IAA will explore the effects of climate change on the global life insurance industry and the broader financial landscape. The series will feature sustainability leaders, regulators, the actuaries and other risk practitioners who will provide perspectives on the risks and opportunities that climate change poses and explore how this might affect life actuaries in their day-to-day work for risk assessments, asset management, product development and managing the growing regulatory landscape. The first episode, "Climate Risk Series" has just been published on actview. Watch it now!

New TEA edition focusing on "Social Security"
In early March, the new edition of "The European Actuary" was published. It focuses on Social Security and brings various expert insights into the topic in the form of articles and reports. In the next edition, we will focus on Social Security in Central America. Our European, Global Health and European sections will also be published. Social Security and its location at the European Commission, spoke to the European Actuary's, which is based on the process for the field. You can watch the full interview on actview. Young Actuaries Initiative launched
The first edition of the actuaries' and the Institute Actuaris Young Actuaries Initiative (YAI) was launched in March 2024. The overall objective is to create a broad network of actuaries associations that will be actively interacting with young professionals. In addition to individual association projects that can serve as best practices and become visible across countries, innovative joint and exchange activities will be implemented to strengthen the cross-border connections of young professionals. The Young Actuaries Initiative will be a network with a global reach, a platform of contacts and an organizer of events - join us and help shape tomorrow's Europe of Young Actuaries! New video by RGA on critical illness claims
Critical illness cover is one of the most popular and the benefits associated are based on meeting certain policy definitions. Actuaries playing an active role in analyzing these products need to be up to date on the specific disease definitions and requirements of critical illness policies. Joining the webinar, actuaries can learn about the latest trends in critical illness claims and the rapid pace in medical advances can lead to difficulties in applying the definitions during the claims stage. In this video, Dr. Stewart Siskind, RGA, discusses these challenging CI claims, focusing on key claim handling as well as underwriting insights.

Speaker of the Month

Gabriela Zeller, EXPLORE Group Trainee at Munich Re, formerly Researcher at Technical University of Munich, Chair of Mathematical Finance
"One of my favorite aspects of research has always been the opportunity to exchange ideas, experiences, and insights with other academic researchers and industry experts from the global actuarial community. While at my university, I had the chance to present at various conferences and seminars, which provided me with a valuable opportunity for personal exchange, feedback, and virtual networking. It was a great experience to see how my research and knowledge easily accessible to peers all around the world."
